

HE LOST HIS LIFE.

George McKay Crashed to Death in the Railroad Yards at Benwood.

A shocking accident occurred yesterday about noon at the Riverside steel plant in Benwood, and resulted in a man named George McKay being instantly killed. He was engaged as a brakeman on the dinky engine, used in shifting cars in the yard, and was caught between the bumpers while coupling cars and crushed to death. The unfortunate man had only been out of the hospital two weeks, having been injured while working in the same capacity on the B. & O. road. Yesterday, however, he was working for another man who had been braked, but had his fingers mangled, and McKay, who had been laboring since his recovery from his former injuries, was put on in his place.

The remains were taken to Zimmerman & Becker's undertaking establishment in Benwood, prepared for burial, and last night were sent to his late home in Littleton. He was about thirty-eight years of age and unmarried.

A HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Man Drawn Into the Huge Cog of a Steel Roller and Badly Hurt.

Adam Wagner met with a horrible accident at the plate rolls in the Bellaire steel works yesterday morning. He works at the rolls, and while standing near the huge cog wheels that run them his trousers were caught and his right hip was dragged into the cog and the hip bone, flesh and all, ground into atoms.

The rolls were stopped promptly, but not until Wagner had suffered such injuries as will cost him his life. The cog ground about half way through the hip joint toward the abdomen. He is a nephew of ex-City Commissioner Louis Long, is about forty years of age and has a wife and four children.

IN DREAMY MEXICO.

The Health Association (Delegates Captured and Owned the City.

The Wheeling members of the American Public Health association, with their invited guests who accompanied them on their excursion to the annual meeting held this year by special invitation at the City of Mexico, have returned.

They report one of the most successful meetings ever held by the association. The special entertainments arranged for the pleasure of their visitors by the Mexican association were on a scale far beyond description, and those who had the pleasure of being present say "twas indeed beyond compare."

The Americans, by special invitation, were present at the chamber of deputies to witness the inaugural of the president of the republic, Senor Porfirio Diaz, and then to the national palace to offer congratulations. The full dress reception given in honor of the Americans by President Diaz and his cabinet, at the palace of Chapultepec, was of the highest order and on a grand scale, and greatly appreciated by all.

Special excursions were arranged for the visitors to Popocatepetl and to all points of interest in and about the old city of Mexico, in fact the keys of the city were handed over to the Americans and they literally took possession.

Dr. L. D. Wilson and Laura M. Connor, of this city, after spending a week with their old friend, Dr. James F. Reeves, at Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain, returned Saturday evening. Miss Charlotte Smith, of New Cumberland, remained in Chattanooga to spend the winter with friends.

The Misses Gutman, of the party, went from Chattanooga to Atlanta, Georgia, and will return home about the holidays.

A Great Attraction.

On Tuesday evening, December 22, Phil W. Peters and his fine company will commence a three nights' engagement at the Grand in his new comedy, called "The Old Soldier." Mr. Peters is a great favorite in Wheeling, and one of the foremost comedians that ever appeared here. He is sure to crowd the Grand to the doors at every performance. The company is said to be great, and as the comedy is new here, there will be great curiosity to see it. Seats at Gentler's.

MOUNDSVILLE.

A Miscellaneous Melange of Minor Matters from Marshall's Metropolis.

The prospects for new developments in oil and gas are very good. A company of local capitalists is now being formed and a charter will be procured and the work of drilling at once begun. The money is being rapidly raised and some shrewd and able business men are back of it. The field operations will be in charge of J. L. Sullivan, a gentleman of wide and extensive experience in the oil business. The company will be composed of home people and the territory will be thoroughly tested. There will be no plunging wells and no holding back, and the landowners will readily lease the territory required.

A number of gentlemen are agitating the question of a course of lectures and entertainments of a high character. Although the season is far advanced the intention is to arrange for four and possibly six first class lectures or entertainments to be given at the Opera house. The first will probably be by Byron W. King, the noted elocutionist of Pittsburgh, who was here two years ago during the teachers' institute.

A lodge of the Shields of Honor was instituted here Saturday night. The R. E. Phillips brought from Wheeling a large number of members of the order. The I. O. O. F. hall was used for the occasion and the lodge starts off with a good membership. Dr. S. M. Steele is medical examiner. Capt. Harry Mendel was in charge of the reunion.

The work of posting new sign boards at the intersection of all streets, bearing ing the street names, is almost completed. Now the houses should be numbered, and in a short time, if the city continues to grow as it has for two years past, it will be ready for free mail delivery.

Mrs. Johnson, who was reported to have been married again less than a week after her former husband's death, says the report is unfounded. Samuel Barker, the man with whom her name had been connected, is now in jail for drunkenness and promiscuous shooting on the streets.

Messrs. Humphreys and Jones have returned from Pittsburgh, where they were buying machinery, and operations will be begun some time in January.

Addison Harris has finished putting the slate roof on the Humphreys Brown Company's factory.

BELLAIRE.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

Ross Borham and Nick Hirsch are in jail here for a terribly brutal assault upon Jesse Moore in Harry Beall's place on Sunday evening. They were drinking and throwing dice for a quarter. A dispute arose, and Moore was appealed to for a decision. He decided in favor of the barkeeper, and thereupon the boys set upon him and beat his head and face to a jelly. Both eyes were closed, and it is yet a question whether his skull is fractured or not, where they struck him over the right eye with a handbill. The barkeeper and women of the place ran out and left them in the bar room, and had it not been for the timely interference of Jack Gallagher Moore might have been killed. A simple charge of assault is made in the mayor's court, but both men pleaded not guilty, and they will have a hearing this morning at 9 o'clock. Moore is unable to be removed to his boarding house. Two charges have been made against Beall, one for keeping his saloon open on Sunday and the other for permitting gambling in his place.

John Shannafelt was fined $50 and costs by Mayor McGowan yesterday on a plea of guilty to the charge of assaulting Maggie Irass, a colored girl who lives on Gravel hill. The offense consisted in his waylaying the girl Sunday evening. He caught her near the Fifth ward school house and hugged and kissed her. She screamed and two brothers named Kerns hearing her started in that direction. Shannafelt ran, but they caught him and took him to the lockup, where he was turned over to the officers. Shannafelt is a white man and has a wife and three children, and this is not his first offense. He pleaded guilty to the charge and admitted to the mayor that he kissed the girl twice. His family connections have heretofore sheltered him.

James H. Knox, an old soldier who says his brother is the mayor of Knoxville, Tenn., is confined at the lockup. He was crazy drunk Sunday night and turned up at the mayor's office saying he had been robbed of his money and pension papers. It has since been learned that he threw his pension papers away, but what became of his money is not known.

Some of the ladies will breathe easier now that one of the huggers has been caught, but Shannafelt has not been doing all of it. And a good many people think the punishment should have been imprisonment, but $25 a hug is too expensive a luxury to take many chances on.

James McKeen died at his home at Quincy, aged 70 years. He was a local preacher for many years and was a justice of the peace in this township for some years.

Billy George, the well-known base ball twirler, will probably play with the Cincinnati team next season.

George Harper, formerly a helper at the steel works, is now traveling for a nursery firm.

Bellaire chapter conferred the Royal Arch degree on three candidates last night.

George Romick, of Zanesville, was in Bellaire yesterday.

A BURST OF SUNLIGHT.

The Discovery of Doctors Who Can Cure Where Others Have Failed.

Mr. William Nass, of Cameron, W. Va., Suffered Terribly for Two Years and Sought Every Means to Obtain Relief. A Constant Battle With Disease.

How many people there are who go from doctor to doctor, suffering from a complication of diseases, being treated for one thing and then another, and never receiving the right treatment after all. To such, the discovery of a physician, who understands his or her case, who applies the right treatment and relieves the sufferer from pain and distress, is like a burst of sunlight through an apparently impenetrable fog.

Dr. Copeland, Bell and Davis do not pretend to be more skillful than all other physicians, but the statement they present from week to week frequently show that they have succeeded in curing cases that other reputable physicians have failed in. The following statement is additional evidence in this respect, and is interesting as showing how completely their master cases of chronic disease that come before them.

Mr. William Nass, of Cameron, W. Va., a blacksmith and wagon builder, by occupation, states as follows: "Two years ago my nose and throat got sore, something different from what I had ever experienced before. The soreness extended from my nose down over my upper lip, and my lips were so stiff, swollen and red as fire, that I could not open my mouth without great pain. My nostrils would clog up and I could not lie a minute on my back for the nausea dropping into my throat, and choking me, consequently had to sleep on my side altogether."

"My throat was sore all the time with a kind of dry sticky feeling in it, causing me to drink water frequently to relieve the distress, with aching over top of head and through my eyes. My ears got dry and scales came out of them, and they were always itching, keeping me picking at them every day for about eighteen months, and they were so sore, something different from what I had ever experienced before. The soreness extended from my nose down over my upper lip, and my lips were so stiff, swollen and red as fire, that I could not open my mouth without great pain. My nostrils would clog up and I could not lie a minute on my back for the nausea dropping into my throat, and choking me, consequently had to sleep on my side altogether."

"I was continually hacking and coughing, the cough was dry, being unable to raise anything, with pains through the centre of my chest to my shoulder blades, stabbing like a knife. My stomach was entirely knocked out, had no appetite at all, and what little I ate I forced down. I often would not try to eat at all, but when I did eat, I could not digest my food, as it lay heavy on my stomach, and would often vomit me up. Bowels costive all the time, soreness over my kidneys so bad I could not bear the weight of an angel, standing like a knife. I lost weight from 135 pounds to 125 pounds but now weigh about my usual weight again."

"I now feel like a new man, ears are well, breathe freely through my nose, no more dropping from my head into throat, soreness in throat gone, eyes are feeling all right; appetite good, and wish my meals, and I do a good day's work now with some pleasure. The bowels are regular, I do not have that tired feeling on arising. I frequently feel much worse when I got up than before I went to bed before I began treatment. My brother-in-law recommended me to Dr. Copeland, Bell and Davis for treatment, and I now feel it my duty to recommend any one suffering from a complication of diseases to try these doctors at once, as they surely can cure them if anyone can."

DIGGING THEIR OWN GRAVES.

"Thousands of people right in this city are digging their own graves. They are hurrying themselves to the cemeteries." "They think they have simply a bad cold in the head or a sore throat, when in reality they are walking about with catarrh—the forerunner of consumption. If they only knew the years of misery they might save themselves they would strangle the disease in its infancy. Delay is dangerous; besides it requires a hard fight to eradicate the disease from the system which it is allowed to run for years. Humanity is alike the world over—people keep putting off and putting off seeing what is the matter with them, and where they might be cured for a few dollars they wait until the catarrh has poisoned the entire system and takes longer to be cured. So that procrastination is not only the thief of time but it is the thief that robs the sufferers' pocketbook."

MARTIN'S FERRY.

News Notes and Personals from Our Near Neighbor.

The reception last night at the Y. M. C. A. to the business men of Martin's Ferry was a very enjoyable affair. Nearly all of those invited responded and spent two hours very pleasantly. A first-class supper was served by the ladies. An informal conference was held after supper. Mr. L. L. Doggett, state secretary, missed a connection at Dayton and was unable to attend. S. G. Gordon, another state secretary, gave a highly interesting talk concerning Y. M. C. A. work. Messrs. Hughes and Lynch, of Wheeling, attended. They, with a number of business men, gave short talks, and Mr. E. T. Adams, Hamilton, the secretary of the Martin's Ferry association, read his annual report. Mr. T. W. Shreve, the president, was master of ceremonies. Mr. Hamilton's report showed excellent work. There are 107 members and the total attendance was 14,450. Meetings were held as follows: Men's gospel meetings, 10; attendance, 2,318; prayer meetings, 12; Bible classes, 7; special meetings, 11; attendance at anniversary, 600; confessed Christ, 10; request for prayer, 15; gymnastic classes held, 53; receptions, 5; practical talks, 4; board meetings, 11; committee meetings, 12.
